

External Audit
Report by Head of Finance

Summary: This report appends:

- (i) the annual audit fee letter from Ernst & Young for undertaking the 2016/17 audit. The fee will be maintained at £13,943.
- (ii) the Local Government Audit Committee Briefing by Ernst & Young.

Recommendations:

- (i) That the details of the annual audit fee letter be noted.
- (ii) That the briefing, including the key questions for Audit Committees as set out on page 9, be noted.

1 External Audit fee 2016/17

- 1.1 This report appends Ernst & Young's 2016/17 audit fee letter (Appendix 1), setting out the audit fee which will be payable for undertaking the 2016/17 audit of the Authority's accounts and its financial, governance and value for money arrangements.
- 1.2 Members will note that the audit fee will be £13,943, which represents no change when compared with the audit fee charged for 2015/16 and 2014/15.

2 Financial implications

- 2.1 Provision for the annual audit fee was included in the 2015/16 budget and has been charged in the accounts for the year. The proposed External Audit fee for 2016/17 has similarly been provided for in the current year's budget.

3 Briefing Key Issues

- 3.1 This briefing is presented to Members "for information".
- 3.2 The items of relevance to the Authority are:
 - Off-Payroll working in the public sector (page 3)
 - PSAA Corporate Plan (page 4)
 - Flexibility on use of capital receipts in Local Government (page 5)

Dear John

Annual Audit Fee 2016/17

We are writing to confirm the audit that we propose to undertake for the 2016/17 financial year at Broads Authority.

Indicative audit fee

For the 2016/17 financial year Public Sector Audit Appointments Ltd (PSAA) has set the scale fee for each audited body, following consultation on its Work Programme and Scale of Fees.

The fee reflects the risk-based approach to audit planning set out in the National Audit Office's Code of Audit Practice for the audit of local public bodies.

The audit fee covers the:

- Audit of the financial statements
- Value for money conclusion
- Whole of Government accounts.

For Broads Authority our indicative fee is set at the scale fee level. This indicative fee is based on certain assumptions, including:

- The overall level of risk in relation to the audit of the financial statements is not significantly different from that of the prior year
- Officers meeting the agreed timetable of deliverables;
- The operating effectiveness of the internal controls for the key processes identified within our audit strategy;
- We can rely on the work of internal audit as planned;
- Our accounts opinion and value for money conclusion being unqualified;
- Appropriate quality of documentation is provided by the Authority;

- There is an effective control environment; and
- Prompt responses are provided to our draft reports.

Meeting these assumptions will help ensure the delivery of our audit at the indicative audit fee which is set out in the table below.

As we have not yet completed our audit for 2015/16, our audit planning process for 2016/17 will continue as the year progresses. Fees will be reviewed and updated as necessary, within the parameters of our contract.

Summary of fees

	Indicative fee 2016/17 £	Planned fee 2015/16 £	Actual fee 2014/15 £
Total Code audit fee	13,943	13,943	13,943

Any additional work that we may agree to undertake (outside of the Code of Audit Practice) will be separately negotiated and agreed with you in advance.

Billing

The indicative audit fee will be billed in 4 quarterly instalments of £3,485.75.

Audit plan

We aim to issue our audit plan in early 2017. This will communicate any significant financial statement risks identified, planned audit procedures to respond to those risks and any changes in fee. It will also set out the significant risks identified in relation to the value for money conclusion. Should we need to make any significant amendments to the audit fee during the course of the audit, we will discuss this in the first instance with the Head of Finance and, if necessary, prepare a report outlining the reasons for the fee change for discussion with the Financial Scrutiny and Audit committee.

This sector briefing is one of the ways that we hope to continue to support you and your organisation in an environment that is constantly changing and evolving.

It covers issues which may have an impact on your organisation, the Local government sector and the audits that we undertake. The public sector audit specialists who transferred from the Audit Commission form part of EY's national Government and Public Sector (GPS) team. Their extensive public sector knowledge is now supported by the rich resource of wider expertise across EY's UK and international business.

This briefing reflects this, bringing together not only technical issues relevant to the local government sector but wider matters of potential interest to you and your organisation.

Links to where you can find out more on any of the articles featured can be found at the end of the briefing, as well as some examples of areas where EY can provide support to Local Authority bodies. We hope that you find the briefing informative and should this raise any issues that you would like to discuss further please do contact your local audit team.

Devolution

In EY's report 'From Whitehall to Townhall Preparing for devolution to England's city regions' it is noted that the UK has lagged behind other countries in decentralising its governance. But in recent years, 'localism' has gained momentum. In the last Parliament, the coalition government took a number of steps to empower city regions – through the creation of local enterprise partnerships, and City and Growth Deals – and the pace of change is quickening.

Large parts of England have started to agree Devolution Deals, which transfer powers in policy areas such as housing, planning and transport, education, employment, skills, health and policing. Eight deals have been announced so far, with five metro areas agreeing to directly elected mayors, and almost every other part of the country is involved in discussions. The recent progress is testament to the credibility that local government has established – with both the government and the public – as local leaders with a vision for local economies and wise stewards of public funds.

The UK is at an early stage of the devolution journey; much work still needs to be done. But the prize could be considerable. If managed well, it could help stimulate local economies to achieve higher levels of job creation and growth; improve public service outcomes through better local coordination of resources and funding; revitalise local democracy through more accountable governance; and improve the sustainability of public finances.

In this short report we look at progress so far and outline the factors that have driven success in winning more powers. We reflect on the readiness of different areas to make a success of devolution and speculate on the long-term impact on local government.

The debate will continue for some time to come, and lessons will be learned along the way. Drawing on our experience of working with a number of local authorities and cities, we are committed to helping facilitate debate and sharing best practices to help local government deliver the best services and outcomes to their communities and citizens.

Retention of business rates

The Government has announced that for 2016/17, Councils across England expect to collect £23.5 billion from business rates. This is an increase of approximately £400 million, in part it is believed this is due to an increase in the number of new businesses across the country.

Under existing rules, councils are expected to retain £11.75 billion of the rates collected; however, in the 2016 Budget, George Osborne indicated that from 2017, 100% business rates retention would be piloted in Greater Manchester and Liverpool City Region, and that in London the share retained would be increased.

Budget 2016

16 March saw the publication of Budget 2016.

On public finances, the Chancellor announced that a departmental efficiency review was expected to identify a further £3.5 billion of savings in 2019/20. Employer pension contributions for public sector pensions are also set to increase from 2019/20, with a reduction in the public service pension scheme discount rate.

Some other announcements included:

- ▶ All schools are expected to either become academies by 2020, or to have an academy order in place to convert by 2022.
- ▶ New mayoral devolution deals will be agreed with the West of England, East Anglia and Greater Lincolnshire. Additional deals will be agreed with Greater Manchester and Liverpool City Region; including working towards the devolution of criminal justice powers. Previously agreed deals will also receive unringfenced funding totaling £2.86 billion to support local priorities.
- ▶ Starting from 1 April 2017, business rates will be cut for half of all properties. Small business Rate Relief will be permanently doubled from 50% to 100%, and the threshold from which this applies will be increased so that it applies to properties with a rateable value of £12,000 and below. The threshold for the standard business rates multiplier will also be increased to those with a rateable value of £51,000. The budget comments that local government will be compensated for the loss of income as a result of these measures.

- ▶ From 2020, business rates annual indexation will be based on CPI rather than RPI. The government will also aim to introduce more frequent business rate revaluations. The government intends to outline options for achieving this in a discussion paper.
- ▶ The government will work with local authorities across England to standardise business rate bills and to provide ratepayers with the option of receiving and paying bills online by April 2017.
- ▶ The government plans to support Local Government Pension Scheme administering authorities' plans to establish a smaller number of British Wealth Funds by combining assets into larger investment pools by 2018. These pools are expected to deliver annual savings of £200-300 million or more.

Off-Payroll working in the public sector

Budget 2016 included an announcement that it would reform the 'intermediaries' legislation' for public sector engagements.

This legislation dates back to 2000, and requires individuals who are working through an intermediary company to pay approximately the same tax and National Insurance contributions as they would if they were direct employees. Typically, intermediary companies have been an individual's own limited company. There is widespread non-compliance, perhaps because many find these rules confusing.

From April 2017, the liability to pay the correct employment taxes will transfer from the worker's own company to the public sector body that is paying the company. These changes, which are intended to be introduced by the 2017 Finance Bill, will be subject to consultation.

PSAA Corporate Plan

Public Sector Audit Appointments (PSAA) published its Corporate Plan 2015-2018 in early 2016. PSAA was set up to manage the audit contracts which were originally let by the Audit Commission, and to put arrangements in place to support the new audit regime established through the Local Audit and Accountability Act 2014.

The Corporate Plan sets out three options available to audited bodies for appointing auditors from the financial year 2017/18 and onwards for NHS bodies and smaller local authorities; and from the financial year 2018/19 and onwards for principal local authorities and criminal justice bodies:

- ▶ Undertake an individual auditor procurement and appointment exercise.
- ▶ Undertake a joint audit procurement and appointing exercise with other audited bodies, e.g., those in the same locality.
- ▶ Join a 'sector led body' arrangement.

The Local Government Association's subsidiary, the Improvement and Development Agency (IDeA), has said that it wishes to secure the establishment of a sector led body to support audit appointments. It also considers that PSAA would be well placed to fulfil this role. Since local government bodies need to appoint auditors for the 2018/19 financial year by 31 December 2017, arrangements for a sector led body will need to be in place in 2016 to prepare for contract letting.

The Corporate Plan also includes the PSAA's current plans around redistribution of surplus fees to audited bodies:

1. For NHS bodies, the anticipated amount for redistribution is approximately 10% of 2016/17 scale audit fees, with expected payments in 2017.
2. For local government bodies, the anticipated amount is approximately 15% of 2017/18 scale audit fees, with expected payments in 2018.

The redistribution is subject to confirmation and approval from the PSAA Board.

Flexibility on use of capital receipts in Local Government

In the 2015 Spending Review, the Government announced its intention to give local authorities the right to use capital receipts on the revenue costs of certain projects.

Two final directions for local government were issued in March 2016; one covering police and crime commissioners, and the other covering councils and fire authorities. There is also a general direction with further guidance.

These direct local government bodies to treat expenditure which is 'designed to generate ongoing revenue savings in the delivery of public services and/or transform service delivery to reduce costs and/or transform service delivery in a way that reduces costs or demand for services in future years for any of the public sector delivery partners' as capital expenditure for expenditure incurred for the three financial years commencing 1 April 2016.

Expenditure which is treated as capital under these directions can only be funded from capital receipts which have been received in the same time period.

The general direction also states that each authority will need to disclose a Strategy which sets out the individual projects that will be funded or part funded through capital receipts flexibility. This should be presented to full Council or the equivalent either as part of the annual budget setting process, through the Mid-Term Financial Plan or equivalent, or as part of the Efficiency Plan.

The strategy setting out these projects should be prepared in advance of the start of each financial year where possible, or presented to full Council or the equivalent as soon as possible.

The state of health care and adult social care in England

The Care Quality Commission has, based on a body of evidence across health and social care, published the above report aiming to give a full picture of the quality of care in England and identify and share key aspects of high-quality care/driving improvement.

Amongst the key messages in the report are:

- ▶ Safety – safety remains the biggest concern across all services, with 13% of hospitals, 10% of adult social care services, and 6% of primary medical services rated as inadequate for safety. The report highlights the rating of significant numbers of services as 'requires improvement'. Safety is seen to be affected by various factors including, ineffective safety and risk management systems, failure to fully investigate and learn from incidents, and, (in hospitals and adult social care) concerns with the adequacy of staffing numbers and skill mix.
- ▶ Delivering quality under pressure – efficiency savings, to meet the more complex needs of an older, changing population, at the same time as ensuring that the health and care system remains sustainable for the future, nearly 60% of adult social care and over 80% of GP practices were rated good or outstanding. At the same time the report highlights variation in quality, including between different services from the same provider and between different providers.
- ▶ Ability to improve – the report highlights an increase in enforcement actions from 4% in 2013/14 to 7% in 2014/15, and that initial results show that, on re-inspection, more than half of services were able to improve their ratings within six months.
- ▶ What it takes to be outstanding – the report emphasizes that high-quality care can be provided under constrained financial conditions through managing resources well. Good and Outstanding providers are not simply relying on more money, the report highlighting that over 90% were also good or outstanding for their leadership.
- ▶ Data and transparency – across all sectors, continuing development of better data, which is available to all stakeholders is seen as important, particularly for adult social care and community and mental health services. In the absence of such information, understanding the quality of care beyond inspections, (or assessing the impact that changes are having on quality of care) is difficult.

Personalised commissioning in adult social care

The National Audit Office (NAO) has recently published a report on commissioning in adult social care. Although personal budgets became mandatory for all eligible users from April 2015 under the Care Act, the NAO has concluded that the Department of Health (DH) requires a deeper understanding of implementing personalised commissioning in the best ways.

Long-term community care accounted for £6.3 billion of local authority spend in 2014/15, and the DH has plans to extend this.

The NAO also highlighted a difference in expectations between the DH and local authorities. Local authorities expect that savings can be made by personalising care, whereas DH anticipates improved value for money through improved outcomes. The Care Act guidance noted that responding to the needs of users and their desired outcomes could increase the cost of care, whereas some local authorities are finding personalising commissioning challenging because of their need to reduce overall spending.

Current monitoring arrangements do not allow the Department to wholly understand how personal budgets and direct payments can lead to improved outcomes. Nor has it looked at how personal budgets can work when finances are challenged.

Amyas Morse, Head of the NAO, said:

“Giving users more choice and control over their care through personal budgets and direct payments can improve their quality of life, but much of the positive evidence for personalised commissioning of adult care services is old. The Department now needs to gain a better understanding of the different ways to commission personalised services for users, and how these lead to improvements in user outcomes.”

Highways Network Asset

CIPFA has published a consultation on the Draft Code of Practice on the Highways Network Asset (HNA Code) with a closing date of 6 April 2016.

The draft HNA Code includes the following definition of the Highways Network Asset:

Highways Network Asset is a network and grouping of interconnected inalienable components, expenditure on which is only recoverable by continued use of the asset created, i.e., there is no prospect of sale or alternative use. The interconnected network is made up of carriageways, footways and cycleways and the structures, street lighting and other assets that are directly associated with them.

CIPFA is producing a series of briefings to support local authorities in the implementation of the new measurement requirements. The second briefing in this series is available from the CIPFA website, and includes guidance on reporting requirements for 2015/16. It notes that the requirements to restate opening balances at 1 April 2015 and prior year comparatives in the financial statements for 2016/17 relating to the Highways Network Asset has now been removed. Please liaise with your auditor to discuss how this will affect your organisation.

2016/17 work programme and scales of fees

The PSAA has published the work programme and scale of fees for 2016/17 audits of principal audited bodies. This set out the work the auditors will undertake for 2016/17 with associated scale fees for individual audited bodies. The key points are:

- ▶ No change to the overall work programme for 2016/17.
- ▶ Scale fees for 2016/17 have been set at the same level as the 2015/16 fee.

Key questions for the audit committee

What questions should the Audit Committee be asking itself?

What assumptions have we included regarding business rates income in our medium term financial plan, and how is this impacted by the changes announced in Budget 2016, such as the increase in Small Business Rates Relief?

Have we determined how we will procure our external audits for the financial year 2018/19 and onwards?

Have we discussed and considered the advantages and disadvantages of the three possible approaches to procurement?

Have we considered how we can use capital receipts to support revenue projects?

Have we considered whether our savings requirements in the short and medium term impact on our capacity to meet the objectives of Personalised Commissioning and how we can address this?

Have we considered the impact of the Highways Network Assets, and are we prepared for this change?
